Communication Coach

Sara is a highly experienced and popular communication coach.

She is a qualified lecturer, a Royal National Theatre actress and one of the UK's most prolific voice-over artists, working with high profile clients such as Microsoft, T Mobile, Channel 4 and BBC TV.

She spent 5 years presenting live for QVC in UK and was then asked to train the presenters of QVC in France and Italy.

She is a trained lecturer in Drama, an examiner for the New Era Academy and has coached a wide range of clients from many industries in both their personal and their public communications skills.

Her innate understanding of commerce, her ability to connect with the customer, and her ability to quickly identify and articulate company stories, make her the first choice for many corporates.

Ambition, drive and a clear focus are at the forefront of everything she does. She is passionate about helping clients find their natural, authentic voice. She empowers them to feel confident in what they uniquely have to offer, so they can communicate clearly with maximum impact and influence.
